

Twenty-second Sunday in Ordinary Time August 28, 2011

Today we are each exhorted to "take up our cross." Suffering comes to every person: believer and non-believer, saint and sinner. A Christian can transform suffering into prayers of praise, intercession, even thanksgiving. Let us pray for the grace to be faithful, even in hard times and offer up our suffering for no less than the salvation of the world.

PRAY FOR VOCATIONS

Jesus came to earth to save us from our sins; to "serve, not be served." In today's Gospel, the Lord invites His followers to do the same; to deny themselves, take up their cross and follow Him so that they can save their own souls and work for the salvation of others. Isn't that what priesthood and religious life is all about? For more information, Contact Rev. Austin A. Murphy, Director of Vocations at 410-547-5426
